

Anna Czarnecka

Taxes in Light of Behavioral Finance

Experimental Study

Poznań 2018

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction.....	7
Chapter 1
Tax elements, tax system and attitudes towards taxation .....	15
1.1. Notion and elements of tax structure .....	15
1.2. Tax system and classification of taxes .....	25
1.3. Canons of taxation .....	31
1.4. Functions of taxes .....	36
1.5. Attitudes towards taxation.....	41
1.6. Characteristics of contemporary tax systems .....	45
1.7. Overview of Polish tax system.....	58
Chapter 2
Behavioral finance as basis for examining attitudes towards elements of tax structure.....	87
2.1. From classical finance to behavioral finance .....	87
2.2. Cognitive distortions. Heuristics .....	94
2.3. Fiscal illusions according to James M. Buchanan.....	97
2.4. Preference distortions. Prospect theory .....	99
2.5. Framing and framing effect .....	103
2.6. Study overview – influence of framing effect onto attitudes towards elements of tax structure .....	105
Chapter 3
Experimental survey as research tool .....	141
3.1. Essence of experimental methods.....	141
3.2. Purpose and scope of empirical study .....	145

3.3. Study sample .....	150
3.4. Study procedure .....	154
Chapter 4
Experimental survey results .....	177
4.1. Results of preliminary quantitative study (stage I) .....	178
4.2. Results of stage II of quantitative study .....	215
4.3. Assessment of framing effect influence onto elements of tax structure in the light of theoretical deliberations .....	228
4.4. Recommendations on further application of obtained results in practice and their significance for theory development .....	234
Conclusion .....	239
Literature .....	245
List of tables .....	259
List of charts .....	263
List of figures .....	265